

Vision Zero Quick-Build Project Updates

October 2025

Under Construction

Sloat Boulevard Quick-Build Project

Construction on Sloat Boulevard is now underway! Work zones are limited to the south side of Sloat Boulevard and the intersection of Sloat Boulevard with the Great Highway intersection. In November, SFMTA will open the new two-way protected bikeway on the south side of Sloat Boulevard, upgraded crosswalks, and on-street parking changes. New bus boarding islands will also improve access to the San Francisco Zoo and Sunset Dunes Park. Final touches will be made by end of the year.

Next Up for Approvals

Clarendon Avenue Quick-Build Project

The Clarendon Quick-Build Project is gearing up for an upcoming SFMTA Board of Directors meeting next month for final approvals. SFMTA staff have conducted extensive public outreach and engagement throughout this project, which gathered feedback focused on safer pedestrian crossings and speed management. Project design proposals have been refined to address these concerns by prioritizing crossing upgrades, daylighting, and calming turns, while adjusting turn pocket lengths near key intersections. If the Board approves the project, SFMTA will proceed with implementation in coordination with San Francisco Public Works repaving, which is targeted for 2026.

Planning in Progress

Mission Bay Boulevard Quick-Build Project

The Mission Bay Boulevard Quick-Build Project is getting started. This project will design and implement near-term transportation safety features identified in the San Francisco County Transportation Authority's (SFCTA) Mission Bay School Access Plan, ahead of the new Mission Bay School opening.

The quick-build will continue the work of the Mission Bay School Access Plan by implementing improvements on two of the corridors identified as barriers to school access:

- Installing safe-hit posts on the existing bike lane on Mission Bay Drive west of the roundabout
- Installing traffic calming measures on Mission Bay Boulevard North and South between 4th and 6th streets.
- Exploring improvements for ingress/egress by bicycle at 7th Street and Mission Bay Drive
