Neighborhood Block Party: Sample Site Plan

A site plan must be submitted along with your application and filing fee. The drawing should detail any major elements such as games/barbecue areas, tables, or jumpy houses. Maps, computer paint programs, or hand drawings are all acceptable forms for submission as long as the required elements are included.

The following need to be on the Neighborhood Block Party site drawing:

- 1) A 14 foot Emergency Access Clear Zone
- 2) Barricades at both ends of the block
- 3) Locations of any safety monitors
- 4) Food, Games, and Activities to be on the street

Please make sure to clearly label all elements of the drawing including areas that will have local access during the event. If you will be allowing vehicles to remain parked on one or both sides of the street please also include that in the site plan.

Note that the permit for a block party is just to close the street and does not change other City regulations; the following additional permits may be required depending on activities at your event.

If you are planning any activities, please make sure to note it on your application - your permit is only valid for the activities and plan as approved at ISCOTT.

- SF Fire Department: permits for generators, open-flame cooking, and food trucks;
- SF Department of Public Health: permits for any food or beverage that is available to the public;
- Entertainment Commission: permits for any amplified sound

Please be aware that Open Container laws still apply during a permitted street closure, unless approved by SFPD and permitted by the ABC, alcohol should not be consumed in public spaces. We recommend that every event sponsor reach out to their local SFPD District Station during the application process to notify police.
