SLOW STREETS IN OCEANVIEW & PARKSIDE: OUTREACH SUMMARY

About Slow Streets and Phase 4 Outreach

The Slow Streets team began outreach activities in early November 2020 to gather community feedback on additional Slow Streets throughout San Francisco. The seven focus neighborhoods from this phase of the Slow Streets program are areas where the team had not heard a lot of community feedback in previous phases. This phase of the program focused on ensuring that Slow Streets could reach underserved communities to create an accessible citywide network.

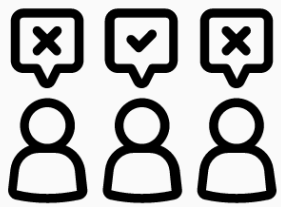

During the outreach process, the team initiated a number of outreach activities to disseminate information about the program and to promote the proposal of corridors in each neighborhood that was recommended to become a Slow Street. Here is a summary of the activities completed:

- Launched a neighborhood specific survey to gather community feedback on proposed Slow Streets in the Oceanview and Parkside
- Held four virtual office hours to talk to members of the community
- Engaged with neighborhood and community group representatives to discuss Slow Streets
- Mailed postcards to residents located along a proposed Slow Street
- Posted posters along the proposed corridors and at key community points of interest
- Worked with District Supervisor's offices to promote the proposal

Community Feedback to Proposed Slow Streets in Oceanview/Parkside

Slow Streets in Oceanview and Parkside: Recommended Corridors and Next Steps

After reviewing all of the feedback that was shared from residents and community members from the Oceanview and Parkside neighborhoods, the Slow Streets team proposes to not incorporate any of streets in the Slow Streets Oceanview/Parkside proposal into the program.

If members of the Oceanview and Parkside communities wish to see Slow Streets in the neighborhood in the future, please contact the Slow Streets team at SlowStreets@SFMTA.com and recommend corridors for review and consideration.
