Neighborhood Block Party - Sample Site Plan

A site plan/diagram must be submitted along with your application and filing fee. The drawing should detail any major elements such as games or barbecue areas, tables, or bounce houses. Maps, computer paint programs, or hand drawings are all acceptable forms for submission as long as the required elements are included with correct dimensions and to scale.

The following need to be on the Neighborhood Block Party site plan/diagram:

- 1) A 14 foot emergency access clear zone - free of any objects, though people may occupy this space
- 2) Barricades at both ends of the block
- 3) Bounce house, in desired location and with accurate dimensions
- 4) Areas for any food, games, or other activities to be on the street

Please make sure to clearly label all elements of the site plan/diagram including areas that will have local access during the event. If you will be requesting any "no parking" posting, please indicate where. Posting the street or portions as "tow away - no parking" is a separate process with an additional charge.

Regulation barricades are required for all street closures and are not supplied by the City.

Note that the permit for a block party is just to close the street and does not change other City regulations; the following additional permits may be required depending on activities at your event.

If you are planning any activities, please make sure to note it on your application - your permit is only valid for the activities and plan as approved at ISCOTT.

Please be aware that Open Container laws still apply during a permitted street closure.
